DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statements (IDS) filed 10/16/2003 and 3/8/2004 are being considered by the examiner.

The information disclosure statement filed 10/16/2003 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each U.S. and foreign patent; each publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference characters "7" and "17" have both been used to designate tabs. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Art Unit: 3679

Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper content of an abstract of the disclosure.

A patent abstract is a concise statement of the technical disclosure of the patent and should include that which is new in the art to which the invention pertains. If the patent is of a basic nature, the entire technical disclosure may be new in the art, and the abstract should be directed to the entire disclosure. If the patent is in the nature of an improvement in an old apparatus, process, product, or composition, the abstract should include the technical disclosure of the improvement. In certain patents, particularly those for compounds and compositions, wherein the process for making and/or the use thereof are not obvious, the abstract should set forth a process for making and/or use thereof. If the new technical disclosure involves modifications or alternatives, the abstract should mention by way of example the preferred modification or alternative.

The abstract should not refer to purported merits or speculative applications of the invention and should not compare the invention with the prior art.

Where applicable, the abstract should include the following:

- (1) if a machine or apparatus, its organization and operation;
- (2) if an article, its method of making;
- (3) if a chemical compound, its identity and use;
- (4) if a mixture, its ingredients;
- (5) if a process, the steps.

Extensive mechanical and design details of apparatus should not be given.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 3679

Claim 1 recites, "a connection of a hose clamp and a hose that is provided with projections"; however, it is not clear to the Examiner whether the hose or clamp has projections. For examination purposes, the Examiner will assume the clamp has projections.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-5 and 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US patent 6530609, Chatterton.

In regards to claim 1, Chatterton discloses a connection of a hose clamp (12) and a hose (10) that is provided with projections, wherein the hose clamp surrounding the hose is pre-positioned between the projections before tightening the hose clamp on the hose, the improvement comprising:

the projections (32) being arranged on opposed sides of the hose clamp and having gaps;

a locking strip having laterally projecting tabs and fastened on an inner side of the hose clamp (see Figure 2 below);

wherein the laterally projecting tabs engage in positive-looking way the gaps.

In regards to claim 2, Chatterton discloses the hose clamp having a clamping band with overlapping end sections, wherein the locking strip covers a connecting location of the overlapping end sections of the clamping band.

In regards to claim 3, Chatterton discloses the hose clamp being a worm drive hose clamp comprising a closure housing having a closure housing bottom (not shown but implied), wherein the locking strip extends across the closure housing bottom.

In regards to claim 4, Chatterton discloses the projections being located on a first side of the closure housing where a head of a clamping screw of the worm drive hose clamp is located, wherein lateral edges of the locking strip each have fastening tab located on a second side of the closure housing facing away from the head of the clamping screw, and wherein the fastening tabs each engage across a lateral edge of the clamping band.

In regards to claim 5, Chatterton discloses the lateral edges of the locking strip each having a guide tab for the clamping band on the first side of the closure housing, wherein the guide tabs project radially outwardly.

Art Unit: 3679

In regards to claim 7, Chatterton discloses the laterally projecting tabs having prolongations extending in both circumferential directions the hose, wherein the prolongations are angled an obtuse angle radially outwardly, wherein the gaps have sidewalls each provided with an undercut, and wherein the prolongations engage the undercuts.

In regards to claim 8, Chatterton discloses the locking strip having longitudinal edges that are bent radially outwardly.

In regards to claim 9, Chatterton discloses the locking strip consisting of metal.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 6 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure because it illustrates the inventive concept of the invention.
